Brits Go Out With A BANG!

Have you been watching the Commonwealth Games? These games are similar to the Olympic Games but only certain countries take part. England is currently in 2nd place (behind Australia) with 45 gold and silver medals and 46 bronze ones.

England are doing very well this year thanks to some dramatic gold medal stories! Here's one of them: in a tense netball match against Australia they were 51-51 and there was less than a minute left to play when (at literally the last second) Helen Housby scored one last goal! The match was over, England had gold and the crowd went wild!

This is only a taster of the Commonwealth Games. There are many other exciting tales in the games too!

Guess The Teacher!

Hey it's me, The Amazingly Cool Oscar who loves Star Wars!

Now, introducing a whole new feature, Guess The Teacher! Now, can you guess whom this might be? Hopefully you will find it challenging enough for it to be a real brainteaser! Here are a few hard clues.....

My favourite teddy was called Zippy.
I liked playing with Teenage Mutant Ninja Turtle figures.

I liked playing Sonic on my Mega drive.

Who is it?

Answer comes in the next edition!

Orienteers Raring To Go!

- Hello, as you know, competitive Mr Maher is holding ANOTHER orienteering competition, this time it's school against school for his or her school glory. This event takes place on Thursday 26th April. Mr Maher feels confident and this could lead up to a semi-final at Barrow Park. As we all know Mr Maher usually leads his team to victory. The team consists of mixed fives and sixes eager to prove themselves in a school full of talent. They are raring to go and bring back victory. We wish you all an excellent day and find the next point on the map. Good luck fellas!
